

Guidelines for Writing an Announcement

- Have one main purpose. State it clearly at the beginning.
- Tell all important information. Answer the questions What? When? Where? Who? Why? How?
- Include exact dates, exact times, and exact places. Tell costs, if any.
- Leave out information that is not important.
- Organize information from most to least important.

Guidelines for Writing an Announcement

- Have one main purpose. State it clearly at the beginning.
- Tell all important information. Answer the questions What? When? Where? Who? Why? How?
- Include exact dates, exact times, and exact places. Tell costs, if any.
- Leave out information that is not important.
- Organize information from most to least important.