

Combining Sentences

1. The Beckers left their cabin quickly. They forgot their life belts. (but)

2. Mrs. Becker and her two youngest children got into a lifeboat. Ruth was left behind. (but)

3. Hundreds of people were still on the Titanic. There were not enough lifeboats for all of them. (but)

4. Ruth was put into a lifeboat. Her boat was lowered into the water safely. (and)

5. The lights on the ship went out. There was a very loud noise. (and)

Combining Sentences

1. The Beckers left their cabin quickly. They forgot their life belts. (but)

The Beckers left their cabin quickly, but they forgot their life belts.

2. Mrs. Becker and her two youngest children got into a lifeboat. Ruth was left behind. (but)

Mrs. Becker and her two youngest children got into a lifeboat, but Ruth was left behind.

3. Hundreds of people were still on the Titanic. There were not enough lifeboats for all of them. (but)

Hundreds of people were still on the Titanic, but there were not enough lifeboats for all of them.

4. Ruth was put into a lifeboat. Her boat was lowered into the water safely. (and)

Ruth was put into a lifeboat, and her boat was lowered into the water safely.

5. The lights on the ship went out. There was a very loud noise. (and)

The lights on the ship went out, and there was a very loud noise.
