

Proofreading for Noun Endings

1. In the West, some mans arrived wearing derbys.

2. The western territores offered many opportunitis.

3. Gear and supplyes for travel could be bought in St. Joseph, Missouri.

4. Stetson hats were popular with cowboys who drove herdes of coves.

5. When John Stetson went back East, no one in the citys bought his hats.

Proofreading for Noun Endings

1. In the West, some mans arrived wearing derbys.

In the West, some men arrived wearing derbies.

2. The western territores offered many opportunitis.

The western territories offered many opportunities.

3. Gear and supplyes for travel could be bought in St. Joseph, Missouri.

Gear and supplies for travel could be bought in St. Joseph, Missouri.

4. Stetson hats were popular with cowboys who drove herdes of coves.

Stetson hats were popular with cowboys who drove herds of cows.

5. When John Stetson went back East, no one in the citys bought his hats.

When John Stetson went back East, no one in the cities bought his hats.