

Combining Sentences with Helping Verbs

Passage A

They had seen a rowboat and had signaled it. They had paddled toward it.

Passage B

They had seen a rowboat, signaled it, and paddled toward it.

Passage C

Doug could see the big cat's muzzle. He couldn't see the rest of her. He could see only that tawny head. He could see the amber eyes moving away from him.

Passage D

Combining Sentences with Helping Verbs

Passage A

They had seen a rowboat and had signaled it. They had paddled toward it.

Passage B

They had seen a rowboat, signaled it, and paddled toward it.

Passage C

Doug could see the big cat's muzzle. He couldn't see the rest of her. He could see only that tawny head. He could see the amber eyes moving away from him.

Passage D

Answers will vary. Sample answer given: Doug could see the big cat's face but not the rest of her, only that tawny head and the amber eyes moving away from him.