

An Information Paragraph

Flamingos are water birds. They have long spindly legs and long necks. The bills of flamingos have bristles. They use the bristles to sift their food from water. Flamingos have feathers that are white, pink, and black. These graceful birds live near lakes in America, Africa, Asia, and Europe.

An Information Paragraph

Flamingos are water birds. They have long spindly legs and long necks. The bills of flamingos have bristles. They use the bristles to sift their food from water. Flamingos have feathers that are white, pink, and black. These graceful birds live near lakes in America, Africa, Asia, and Europe.