

Celebration Words

1. Luisa loves parties and celebrations. Today there is a neighborhood fiesta, or celebration, with music, dancing, food, and even a parade. Luisa can't wait to go!
2. The fiesta is the biggest festival in the barrio, or the neighborhood where Luisa lives.
3. This fiesta is one of the barrio's oldest traditions. Luisa's grandma told her that the fiesta has been held there every fall for more than thirty years.
4. Luisa is learning about the customs of people from all over the world at school. Today she will see some of those customs in person.
5. One of Luisa's favorite parts of the fiesta is the food. Every year, she and Grandma buy roasted corn. Gardeners from the barrio's community garden grow and harvest the corn.

Celebration Words

1. Luisa loves parties and celebrations. Today there is a neighborhood fiesta, or celebration, with music, dancing, food, and even a parade. Luisa can't wait to go!
2. The fiesta is the biggest festival in the barrio, or the neighborhood where Luisa lives.
3. This fiesta is one of the barrio's oldest traditions. Luisa's grandma told her that the fiesta has been held there every fall for more than thirty years.
4. Luisa is learning about the customs of people from all over the world at school. Today she will see some of those customs in person.
5. One of Luisa's favorite parts of the fiesta is the food. Every year, she and Grandma buy roasted corn. Gardeners from the barrio's community garden grow and harvest the corn.