

Good Beginnings

1

I went on a trip to a news station. I met a woman who films weather.

2

Have you ever wondered what it feels like to film a tornado heading your way? I found out the answer to that question when I visited Channel 5 and met the brave woman who never met a storm she didn't like.

1

I went to a theme park with my family. We rode the earthquake ride.

2

I had no idea what I was getting into when I innocently agreed to take my little brother on the San Francisco Shaker. I had thought that theme parks were for babies, but was I in for a surprise!

1

I was looking for my brother. I heard thunder. Then I heard it again. First it was light. Then it was dark.

2

"Jimmy! Where are you?" Boom! The loudest sound I ever heard rang in my ears.

"I'm here," Jimmy yelled. Boom again! First the sky lit up outside the window, and I could see Jimmy huddled between the dresser and the bed. Then the entire room went dark, and everything got very quiet.
