

What Makes a Great Personal Narrative?

A personal narrative gives a first-person account of a true experience.

Follow these guidelines when you write your personal narrative. Use I.

- Write about something that happened to you.
- Grab your reader's attention at the beginning.
- Include events and details that relate to the main idea.
- Write the events in time order.
- Use dialogue and colorful language.
- Let the reader know how you felt about your experience.
- End in a way that concludes the story.

What Makes a Great Personal Narrative?

A personal narrative gives a first-person account of a true experience.

Follow these guidelines when you write your personal narrative. Use I.

- Write about something that happened to you.
- Grab your reader's attention at the beginning.
- Include events and details that relate to the main idea.
- Write the events in time order.
- Use dialogue and colorful language.
- Let the reader know how you felt about your experience.
- End in a way that concludes the story.