

Varying Sentence Types

1

I watched the rain come down. It was 4:00. I had just gotten home from school. I wondered where my sister was. She was always there before I was. I looked at my watch. It had been raining for an hour. I was wet from walking home from the bus stop. I took off my jacket and hung it on the hook in the hall. I went into the kitchen to see what I could find to eat.

2

Look at that rain come down! It was 4:00, and I had just gotten home from school. Where was my sister? She was always there before I was. I looked at my watch. It had been raining for an hour! I was soaking wet from walking home from the bus stop. I took my sopping jacket off and hung it on the hook in the hall. I wonder what there is to eat? I went into the kitchen to find out.

Varying Sentence Types

1

I watched the rain come down. It was 4:00. I had just gotten home from school. I wondered where my sister was. She was always there before I was. I looked at my watch. It had been raining for an hour. I was wet from walking home from the bus stop. I took off my jacket and hung it on the hook in the hall. I went into the kitchen to see what I could find to eat.

2

Look at that rain come down! It was 4:00, and I had just gotten home from school. Where was my sister? She was always there before I was. I looked at my watch. It had been raining for an hour! I was soaking wet from walking home from the bus stop. I took my sopping jacket off and hung it on the hook in the hall. I wonder what there is to eat? I went into the kitchen to find out.